Enclosure 4
1917

Notes of Inspection of Mysore City by the Plague Commissioner. September 1917

September 2nd I left Bangalore by the 11·10 A.M. train in Company with the Senior Surgeon and my Assistant Mr Plumer. On arrival at Mysore I was met by Mr Madiah, Deputy Commissioner, Dr Achuta Rao Civil Surgeon and Mr Nanjunda Raj Ars, Vice President of the City Municipality with with whom I made arrangements for inspecting Veeranna's lines and the site near the woodyard ordered by me, during my last inspection at Mysore, to be acquired for the purposes of a Plague Camp.

September 3rd

2. At 7.30 A.M. I inspected the said site and found that holes had been dug along the side of the field adjoining the road for the erection of uprights for the screening in of the idea of introducing a Colony of Weavers and their industry into the Mysore City. The scheme, however, has not flourished and now, only some 30 of the houses are occupie

5. The lines are close to the Railway line and water is laid on to them, so, they will make an excellent detention Camp in which passengers from an infected area who have to be detained

Can be kept under detention and will also do very well for housing persons who on ~~either~~ leaving the segregation camp have no place to live in, owing to their own house being locked up for disinfection purposes.

6. I explained to the Deputy Commissioner the rules regarding escort and detention of passengers and in Consultation with the Senior Surgeon decided decided on Establishing a Medical Inspection Statio at Kengeri for the examination of all passengers leaving Bangalore by rail and travelling South to Mysore and for the putting of them under Escort to their places of destinatio

7. I instructed the Deput Commissioner to arrang for the opening of a Shop near near the lines and for the Construction of a dis-infection shed and a tem-porary platform close by.

8. As regards the families already living in the lines I asked the Deputy Com-missioner to arrange for their being all housed at the end of one of the rows of huts farthest away from the line of rail.

In

9. In the after-noon the Senior Surgeon and myself held a meeting of the local officers and explained to them the plague rules in force and answered the differ-ent questions Concerning them which they wished to ask, and at the close of the meeting. I think a good many misunderstandings has been cleared away and the officers understood the rules rules thoroughly

10. In the morning I — September 4th inspected the site acquired for a second plague and segregation camp near the old travellers' bungalow. I instruct ed the Deputy Commissioner as to the arrangements I wished made for the construction of the camp and asked him to acquire the travellers' bungalow which is I learn not

Segregation and isolation of a patient in his own house would be allowed, that where such was not possible segregation would when practicable be allowed in a house to be acquired for the purpose in the street or mohalla in which the patient lived, although we impressed on them that this method was not so desirable or efficacious as

as Segregation in one of the Government Camps. We assured them further that in no Case would any patient be separated entirely from the attentions of his relations nor would he in any case be compelled to be treated by Government doctors nor to take European medicines. The Senior Surgeon in a short, clear speech, described the history

Surgeon that there was a very general desire among the more enlightened members of the Community for early arrangements being made for the introduction of inoculation into Mysore, and this the Senior Surgeon promised should be arranged for at an early date. We then drove to the Station and leaving Mysore by the 10.30 A.M. train we arrived in Bangalore at 6 P.M.

I was pleased to find from enquiries made on the way that many of those who had at the first outbreak of plague fled from the city were now returning to it which may, I think, be taken as a sign that a feeling of reassurance and Confidence is gaining ground among the masses.

The Plague Comm's proposal for the utilization of Sowcar Viramma's weaver lines at Mysore City for a Segregation Camp has it is presumed, been made upon the assumption that the property belongs to the Govt. The property however does not belong to the Govt, but belongs to Viramma Subject to a mortgage debt to the Govt of Rs 5 [illegible]. Separate orders have been passed this day upon Viramma's application refusing that the Govt should take over a portion of the property in full liquidation of the mortgage debt. Those orders direct the foreclosure of the mortgage by means of a public auction — if by purchase at such auction the weaver lines or any portions thereof become Govt property, the Plague Comm's proposal to utilize the same for a Segregation or health Camp can of course be given effect to. But the Govt do not wish to acquire this property for this purpose. It would be preferable from a Sanitary point of view to that the houses in the Weavers lines, which ~~are well drained~~ enjoy the advantages of good drainage & Ventilation, shd become private residences, than that they shd become Govt. property. In the former case some relief will be afforded to the overcrowding which exists in ~~Several~~ parts of the City, and ~~the Govt. Can easily provide in other ways for the Health Camps~~, shd unfortunately a second ~~one is~~ Health ~~addn. to the~~ Camp be required in addn. to the one proposed near the Travellers Bungalow, it can easily be provided elsewhere -

At any rate ~~the Govt. does not think that it is necessary~~ the foreclosure of Viramma's mortgage & the provision for a ~~Head~~ Second Health Camp are independent questions which shd be disposed of Separately on their individual merits. Etc

Revenue & General Departments.

SIR,

With reference to Government Proceedings No. 3429-31 / M.F. 21-96 dated 10th September 1898, I have the honor to state that Government have apparently misunderstood the use I proposed to put Veeramma's lines to. The huts higher up near the Railway line were primarily proposed to be either rented or bought up to be used as a detention Camp where passengers coming from an infected area area would be examined and detained or dismissed according to the opinion of the Inspecting Officer. The question of the utilization of the huts lower down as a health camp or as a permanent residence for persons whose houses may be taken up by the Municipality for improving the sanitation of the town is a matter of secondary consideration. I would again urge on Government that Veeramah's lines lend themselves best for purposes of a detention camp and that with a few improvements personally pointed out to the Deputy Commissioner and the Vice President the higher huts could be turned out
